Golf Excitement '99

6th annual tournament is coming in June

Yes, this is your last chance to get your name on the Cruze Family golf trophy in the 19th century.

It's probably the upper Midwest's best known invitational and is again scheduled for late June. It's open to all direct descendents (and their spouses) of Carl and Leona Cruze.

The Cruze Family Invitational tournament has gone very well in past years. Each year anticipation for the tournament has grown. Each year players begin preparing for it earlier and earlier.

This year, the tournament may come to be known as the "War of the walking wounded." Art is complaining of tennis elbow (probably the direct result of marathon sessions of Blackjack and Madden 64 Football games). Greg is still suffering from the effects of his recent back surgery. The doctor said that he's had a weak back for some time (like we needed a doctor to tell us that).

Roger is complaining about a broken finger. Says he broke it fixing a flat tire and it's affected his swing. Some say his problems go a lot deeper than just a sore finger.

John hasn't called in with a disability yet. We can only assume that he's still in fair shape. Vegas' smart money is on John to win it all this year if he can keep a cool head.

Imagine!

Imagine walking down this fairway.
Imagine smelling the fresh air.
Imagine watching the shadows sliding on the edge of the fairway.

Can you hear the leaves rustling? Did you hear that distant "knocking" of wood? Did you hear someone yell "Hey, anyone see where it went?"

Get into a family game where no one asks for mercy because they know none will be given. Get into a family game where when you someone tells you "nice shot" they really mean "man, you are one lucky dude". Get into a family game where everyone knows your score before you've added it up.

No entry fee, only "green fees", tees, and golf balls. To enter, call Roger at 612-926-3198.

Registration will be held open until June 4th. Don't miss it.

The sixth annual Cruze Family Golf tournament is scheduled to be played the weekend of June 26th and 27th.

Sources indicate that the tournament will be played in either Buffalo or Chaska Mn. Both cities have excellent courses. Both are challenging with difficult and yet picturesque holes. The lay of the land in Chaska offers a particular challenge while the water in Buffalo is unforgiving. As of yet, we don't know which city will be selected to host it.

The format of the tournament will be roughly the same as in prior years. An unofficial practice round can be played on the Friday just prior to the weekend. Saturday, is the first official practice round. Sunday is the scheduled day for the tournament.

Should the tournament not be able to be played on Sunday, (i.e. bad weather), the Saturday round will count. Therefore, it's best to play your best round on both days, "just in case."

Yes, God gave us umbrellas for the rain. But He also gave us lightning to show us the way to the clubhouse.
